SACRED MOUND MILL SOON TO START

SIERRA CITY, January 30 (Special to The Nugget)—Gold mining looks to be coming into its own again in this district. With the new mill at the Sacred Mound scheduled to get into action by February 15th things should begin to hum around the Buttes.

The mill at the Mound is of the Gibson rod type and has a 75 ton capacity. The mill building has been completed and the machinery is being tuned up to work on a large tonnage of excellent mill ore that has been blocked out in the workings. Pelton wheels are being installed for power and a large rock crusher is going in.

The California Buttes Mining Co. which has the Sacred Mound under bond and option has bonded the Monarch property owned by J. H. Lee and has started a crew at work retimbering the workings, cleaning up and getting ready for shaft sinking. The shaft is to be sunk from its present 335 foot depth, 150 feet deeper to intersect the vein. The shaft is a vertical one.

T. T. Lane who has been in charge of operations at the South Fork property at Forest has come here as general superintendent for the California Buttes. T. Leonard Park is president and general manager.

Lane was superintendt of the Utica mine at Angels Camp during the heyday of its productive period.

A crew of fifteen men are at present employed at the Sacred Mound.

Lane made a recent inspection of the Buttes Saddle property and reports good possibilities of developing a large tonnage of ore. Work is to be started on the Saddle in the spring.

California mines produced last year in gold, 566,600 ounces valued at $11,711,800, accoding to figures released by the Department of Commerce.

The growing mineral display in The Nugget window was enhanced the past week with a large size specimen taken from the 800 level of the New England mine.

Shaft sinking is in progress at the Gracey mine.

The mill buliding at the Western Merger mine has been completed. It is hoped that the mill can commence active operations in a couple of weeks after many delays owing to inclement weather.

Mrs. Chas. Eden and daughter, Miss Elma, are home from a two week's visit at Medford, Oregon, with relatives.

Fred Zanocco, while engaged in felling and cutting timber near this city early in the week, was caught by the glove on his hand on a snag on a large log. His glove held him fast and he was hurled in the air and under the log three times before seven workmen were able to catch and hold the log. He had three ribs broken, a shoulder crushed and other bruises. It was feared for a time that he had suffered internal injuries. Latest reports from the local sanitairum are that he is getting along nicely.

The Kirkpatrick is under bond to a company headed by State Treasurer C. G. Johnson.

HENRY EVERETT APPOINTED ADVISOR IN BUTTE COUNTY

Another Nevada City boy has gained distinction in the outside world in the person of Henry Everett, who has been appointed farm advisor for Butte county the past week. Everett has been assistant advisor in Sonoma county for some years and his appointment to the post at Oroville will be read with a great deal of delight by his many friends here.

The family moved here from up country and Everett attended the grammar school and graduated from high school. He graduated from the State Agricultural College with the class of 1919 and since 1920 has been at Santa Rosa.

The bureau is scheduled to commence functioning this week.

BASKET BALL TEAMS IN A WIN AT ELK GROVE

Last Friday afternoon the A, B and C. basketball teams of the Nevada City high school journeyed to Elk Grove to play their first league games. The afternoon was very successful for the local teams and the players returned with three victories safely stowed away.

The A game was one of very accurate shooting by Hegarty and Solaro. Skeahan and "Puss" Wasley guarded their territory in good shape. The game ended in favor of Nevada City with a 32 to 11 score.

The B game was closer and the local boys had to fight every minute. The shooting of Hart, Brisebill and Naake and the remakable guarding of McCormack resulted in a 20 to 16 win.

The C team players won their game by a large margin, 19 to 3. Hoskins was the outstanding star of this contest.

MINING LOOKING BETTER AS MILLS GETTING READY

With twenty stamps dropping at the Murchie and five at the Lease, there is more milling activity in the Nevada City section than for years past and it indicates a coming revival of gold mining this year that will spell future prosperity for this richest gold section of California. With the bright prospects in Sierra county, there is a great deal to look forward to.

As indicating the interest being taken a number of mining locations were filed with County Recorder S. J. Clark the past week. The Golden Star claim was located by James Williams, Joseph Forrester, Charles Deacon and Leland S. Wincapaw in the Rough and Ready Mining District. The Golden Eagle by Joseph C. Forrester et al in the same district is another location. The Reliance Placer Annex claim has been locateed by Roy E. Kimball in the Eureka Mining District on the Middle Yuba river. The Wilmath and Leta placer locations in the Birchville District have been filed by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goodendorf who have also filed a tunnel location for the purpose of mining these claims.

As spring comes on, the talk of more mining properties being opened up becomes stronger. It has been reported previously that a 500 foot shaft is to be sunk at the Camborne Hayle property this spring. A crew of men has been put at work at the Golden Center property which showed a good production during its brief career.

With the announcement that the New England mill may be operated as a custom plant pending the reopening of the mining property, an opportunity awaits a number of mine owners of this section who have large tonnages of concentrates that have not been pofitable to ship to the bay region. The plan is yet in the embryo stage.

TELEPHONE OFFICE HAS LOBBY CHANGED ABOUT

The local telephone office now presents a great change as well as improved appearance in its interior appointments. The lobby has been cleared of the long counter and is now 12 by 16 in feet extent with chairs for the patrons.

The main item of interest is that the switchboards are now completely open to the view of the public. This is an innovation introduced by Manager J. E. Gooding so that the public may see how the wheels go round at the switchboards and with such good looking girls as preside at the plugs in the Nevada City office, it is presumed that watching the work will be a pleasureable exercise.

The booths have been moved to the east side of the lobby where they will be handled easier on long distance calls. The woodwork of the interior has been revarnished and the office presents a very spic and span appearance.

The Nevada City office is one of the prize offices of the state in point of efficiency and service.

GRAND JURY SUBMITS REPORT OF ITS LABORS

The 1928 grand jury filed its report the past week. The main matter of interest aside from the routine inspection of the various county offices was the recommendation that an auditor be engaged to check up the entire financial system of the county.

Conditions at the county farm were reported to be very satisfactory and it was recommended that an oil burning system be installed to replace the present wood consumer.

The county jail came in for a good word from the special committee.

NEVADA NEWSPAPER DOES NOT CHECK NEWS SOURCES

The following is taken from the Carson News of Carson City, Nevada, and is indicative of what foolishness some papers will engage in without checking up on their news sources:

"Yuba Pass is blocked by snow, and a driver in Saturday said that he was unable to get beyond Sierraville, deep snow blocking the highway on to Sattley, while he was told that the drifts on Yuba Pass were very deep. Several cars were caught in the snow, he reported but were pulled out by their drivers. One of the cars was a light machine driven by a woman and was loaded with household goods, says the Gazette."

The statement that the road between Sierraville and Sattley was blocked with deep snow is really amusing as the towns are in the Valley far below the snow belt and at the time that this item was published, the deepest that the snow was on the Pass was two feet and readily traversible. There have been but several days that the Pass has been closed and the publishing of such silly twaddle does the winter travel no good and injures the reputation of the paper.

LINCOLN GRAIN GROWERS IN THE LOCAL TERRTIORY

The Lincoln Grain Growers which is an association of farmers in the Lincoln section raising their own grain and feed and marketing the same through their own elevator, has been making a survey of the Nevada county field with the idea of extending its selling territory. O. Jorstad, secretary, and P. K. Corcoran, manager, were in Nevada City Thursday looking over the field. The Association which is composed of 60 stockholders enjoys a large trade in the lower country due to their excellent product.

Rev. W. Charles Pearson conducted services at the county farm yesterday afternoon. Members of Trinity choir assisted with music and Mrs. Sidney Talbot sang a solo.

George Neagle has gone to Oakland wher ehe has accepted a position with the Hall Scott Motor Company. He left Sunday for the scene of his new labors.

JUNIOR TRAFFIC PATROL UNDER WAY LOCALLY

Washington grammar school of this city has the honor of organizing the first Safety First League of Junior Traffic Reserve as it is called. A committee of three were elected from each of the four upper grades of the school who met and drew up plans for the organization In this matter they were allowed as much freedom as possible and their business sessions were conducted in a manner that would be creditable to a group organization.

After several weeks of preliminary work the committee learned that similar organizations to the one they were forming functioned under the State Motor Vehicle Department and were under direction of the local traffic officer. So Traffic Officer Joe Blake was called into conference and Friday addressed the committee. He found a live and enthusiastic committee who were willing listeners.

The committee named will be literally junior traffic officers. It will be their duty to transport small children across the dangerous street crossings in the mornings and at noon and to direct traffic at certain crossings when directed to do so by the traffic officer. They will also take down the number of anyone passing the school at a speed to exceed 15 miles an hour. This number will be reported to the principal who will decide whether or not to turn it into the local traffic officer The children serving on the committee will be furnished with a cap and badge similar to the one worn by the regular traffic officer and their signals must be obeyed the same as that of the regular traffic officers. Any violation of this will make the offender liable to arrest.

The committee is publishing a safety first magazine a single sheet printed on both sides with cartoons, poems and trite safety first admonitions Volumne 1 No. 1 appeared Friday in conjunction with the Sierra News, a single sheet edited and published by Charles Alford of the sixth grade.

Billy Plummer is the editor of the new paper and Charles Alford attends to the mechanical part of the paper.

Grass Valley is falling into line and plans to have a similar organization starting this week.

The new officers will appear on duty February 1. Watch for them and be sure to give them the necessary co-operation and encouragement.

The following pupils have been elected from the upper grades of grammar school: 5th Grade, Izabel Dunlap, Franklin Tuttle, Ruth Levy; 6th Grade, Gove Celio, William Sharpe, Gertrude Sawyer; 7th Grade Warren Chapman, Katherine Celio, Bob Tucker; 8th Grade, Gertrude Howarth, Margaret White, Francis Bernard.

Francis Bernard, Chairman, and Margaret White, Secretary. The pupils drafted heir own set of rules

SIERRA HOTEL BUILDING IS BEING TORN DOWN

DOWNIEVILLE, Jan. 28, (Special to the Nugget)— A crew of wreckers has started tearing down the old Sierra Hotel building at this place. With the removal of this building one of the old landmarks of Downieville will be a memory. The building was erected immediately after the fire of 1865, and in those flush days part of it served as a bank. Scammon, the banker, maintained the business until the early '90's, when, after the injunction against hydraulic mining, business fell off. The old building has since housed a hotel, a restaurant and other businesses. For several years it has been empty, and was recently bought by Antone Lazezzola, owner of the St. Charles Hotel, who is now removing it to improve his hotel property.

FRENCH CORRAL, Jan. 28, (Special to the Nugget)— Well here we are with the first month of 1928 almost at an end. A good rain Saturday night and Sunday but the delightful, balmy, days that have followed make it hard to settle down for winter.

We wonder if many realize what a wonderful piece of country is our own Nevada County. It is perfectly true that the ice canival is being held at one end of the County while oranges and lemons are being picked at the other end.

Oh! Nevada County is the place for a home and the San Juan Ridge if,— Well! a few months later we may have something to tell.

A MARVEL PASSES

TIME was, and not so many years ago, when talking by telephone even to nearby places was a matter of wonderment to the world. Taking part in such a conversation was an event. Today the common reliance on the telephone in every kind of business and social contact marks the passing of a marvel.

For the telephone has here become the common carrier of thought for millions because it is the fastest, most economical means of personal communication with others nearby and in distant places.

From your telephone you may now speak directly to over 70,000 cities and towns in the United States as well as to Great Britain and many cities in both Mexico and Canada.

SECURITY AND UNITED BANKS ARE IN MERGER

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—The merger of the United Bank and Trust Company and its controlled system, the Security Bank and Trust Company, Bakersfield, was announced today by Leon Bocqueraz, Chairman of the Board of the United, as actually in progress but incomplete.

As a preliminary step, the capital of the Security has been increased from $5,000,000 to $7.500,000 and the par of its shares changed from $100 to $25, to conform with the par of the United.

The directorate of the Security will be enlarged from 27 to 53, and the new board will include members of the directorates of both the present Security organization and the present United Organization. The headquarters will be transfered to San Francisco.

As a result of this technical merger, the United-Security system will operate, directly, 49 banking offices in 36 cities of California, while it s understood that several of the banks contralled by the French-American Corporation, owned share for share by United-Security Stockholders, will soon be transferred into the enlarged United-Security system.

The merger will make a rearrangement of official personnel necessary, but it is understood that all executives of both systems will continue. In some instances there will be changes of title, but duties very similar to those now assigned.

It is also stated that United stock certificates will be valid in the new Security organization and that they may be transferred in the ordinary course of business, without any need for sending them in for immediate transfer unless the holders prefer to do so.

BOWLES RETURNS FROM THE HOSPITAL TO CAMPTONVILLE

Rex Bowles, proprietor of the C O D garage at Camptonville was in town Friday night on his way home after a long time below in the hospital. While there it was necessary to resort to blood transfusion to save his life, a quart and a half of blood being used. Mr. Bowles is reopening the garage which has been closed down pending his return, but it will be some time before he will be fully recovered.

NEWSPAPER IADVERTISING THAT LIVES LONGER

Sales of mail order houses continue to grow. Year after year more money is sent to distant cities, never to return.

Catalogs are delivered every day by local mail carriers. Money orders are purchased every day at the local post office. The money lured away by the mail order houses never comes back. It goes to enrich people who have never seen this community, who possess no interest in its welfare, and who contribute nothing toward its maintenance or progress.

The merchant who suffers least at the hands of the mail order houses is the merchant who advertises his mrechandise regularly in a weekly newspaper.

When a family assembles about a catalog and begins reading glowing descriptions of various items of merchandise, the merchant who doesn't use the weekly newspaper as an advertising medium hasn't a chance. He is defenseless, helpless.

Money that should come to his store goes past it sealed, stamped envelope, addressed to Chicago or some other distant city.

There is only one way to squelch the catalog. That is to use the weekly newspaper, the catalog's sworn enemy. In the home where the weekly newspaper is read, there is no temptation to read catalogs. The weekly newspaper can safeguard your interests, can prevent money that should be yours from going elsewhere.

The weekly newspaper is your insurance against the catalog evil. The weekly newspaper will giye you the protection you need. Mail order houses will cause you no more worry if your advertisement appears regularly in The Nugget, which goes into hundreds of homes in this community.

Travel hint: If you want a nice quiet place to rest, why don't you spend your vacation in China this year?

Everybody in Nevada City is "in business' of some kind or another. Not only the man who runs the store or bank or newspaper, but also the man or woman who teaches preaches, doctors, or otherwise labors in human or industrial service. All who earn a living may be considered "in business" to the extent that they depend on the other fellow. Therefore it is a mistake to think that the merchants alone are the authors of the "trade at home" idea, or that they are the sole beneficiaries of the idea when put into practice.

They still put a lot of money in clothes, but the girls don't put as much of them ayes into them as they used to.

PACIFIC GAS WILL SELL MORE JUICE IS THE AIM

Annoucement is made by the Pacific Gas nad Electric Company, of an aggressive sales campaign for the development of business to become affective immediately throughout the entire territory served by the company. The program, according to R. E. Fisher, Vice-President in Charge of Public Relations and Sales, will involve an expenditure on the part of the company, in excess of One Million Dollars. Over 300 salesmen will be employed in this campaign, which will be the most extensive sales promotion program in the company's history.

"Electricity is Cheap—You Can Use it Freely" will be the company's slogan for the year and will be based on the proposed slash in rates, which will result in a saving of approximately $1,750,000 to the company's consumers.

Execution of the sales program will be under the direction of H. M. Crawford, General Sales Manager, who states that particular stress will be laid on the development of additional business to off-set the reduction in revenue due to the voluntary cut in rates to become effective about March 1, 1928.

He further states: "We hope to increase the consumption of electric energy by making it attractive for the consumers to use a greater quantity and thus balance the loss in revenue due to the reduction in rates by increased volume of consumption.

An extensive advertising program under the direction of J. Charles Jordan, Publiciyt Manager of the company, will support the sales program. Jordan states that the daily and weekly newspapers have been most satisfactory mediums for this type of work and that they will be used exclusively.

It is estimated that in addition to the actual expenditures for the specific sales activities of the company, another million dollars will be spent for labor, material and supplies, for lines and added facilities to take on this new business.

It is also estimated that 766 carloads of gas and electric consuming devices will be sold which will stimulate the sales for local dealers, resulting in a vast increase in business for all connected with the gas and electric industry.

SENATOR INGRAM WILL RETIRE FROM THE FIELD

Thomas Ingram, state senator from the third senatorial district comprising Nevada, Placer, El Dorado, Sierra and Plumas counties, and whose term will expire with the present year, has announced that he would not seek re-election. Senator Ingram suffered a physical collapse late in the session of 1925, and although he regained much of his former vigor and was able to serve in the 1927 session without difficulty, he feels that it would not be desirable for him to undertake the duties of another full term. He has reached this decision largely on the advice of his physician and despite the very cordial and numerous offers of support at the polls should he wish to continue as a member of the California Senate.

Senator Ingram was first elected to represent the third district in 1916 and will have served three terms of four years each on January next. In none of the three elections was he opposed at the polls, which is a unique circumstance in California politics. Following the death of Congressman John E. Raker, of Senator Ingram was widely regarded as the logical successor to Mr. Raker and was repeatedly urged to enter the race for congressman from the second California district but for health considerations was obliged to decline.

In conveying to the press his decision to retire, Senator Ingram asked that his profound appreciation to the people of the third district for the confidence and honors conferred upon him be expressed.

GRAZING FEES ON CALIFORNIA FORESTS TO BE ADJUSTED

Beginning with the 1928 spring season, an increase in grazing fees now in effect will be charged for the running of livestock in the national forests of California, according to announcement by S. B. Snow, chief of the California District, United States Forest Service. A like increase will be made each year until 1931, or until the present fees reach the maximum of from 15 to 19 cents per head per month for cattle, and from 4½ to 6 cents per head per month for sheep. This maximum rate will then be applied from 1931 to 1934, and will continue for the 10 year period beginning 1935, unless there should be a material change in conditions existing at that time which affect the equitable determination of fair compensation for the use of Government ranges.

These new fees, according to Mr. Show, are the result of an exhaustive study of national forest grazing conditions and ranges made by the forest service during the past seven years. In this study, which covered 156,000,000 acres of Federal lands, each national forestrange unit was appraised according to topography, accessability, quality of forage, water resources, etc., and compared with 760,000 acres of privately owned range lands of like quality, within or adjacent to the national forests, which were leased for gazing purposes. The appraisal brought out the fact that such private brazing lands, for the period 1914-1923, returned a revenue of 30 cents per month per head for cattle and 10 cents per month per head for sheep. A recheck of over one million acres of private lands in 1925 increased this return to 39 cents for cattle and 10.6 cents for sheep.

Maybe the unusual noises we hear around town now are caused by New Year's resolutions being broken.

The new 1928 license plate is just as hard to read after you've been run over by an auto as was the 1927 kind.
